Pearl Seas Cruises Ship is Launched

Guilford, CT – Pearl Seas Cruises has announced today that their new ship was launched on Friday at the Irving Shipyard in Halifax Nova Scotia. This is the first of several ships the company plans to build for world service.

The line's new ship will carry no more than 214 guests and feature 108 spacious, well-appointed suites – all with private balconies. The ship will be outfitted with the latest navigation and communication technology, in addition to the most advanced Rolls Royce active wing stabilizers – creating the optimum ship, small enough to sail to intriguing places unavailable to most of the larger cruise ships while also providing a smooth, comfortable ride in deep ocean cruising, fascinating waterways, sounds, bays and inner islands.

The ship's suites will have a size range of 320 to 640 square feet, and will be offering the intimacy and service expected on a small luxury cruise ship while also affording all of the modern amenities of a larger cruise ship.

The 2009 –2010 schedule is available on the web site and showcases the cruise line's 29 itineraries, visiting over 100 unique ports throughout Eastern Canada, New England, Canadian Maritimes, Caribbean, Central America, Panama Canal, and the Great Lakes.

The ships have been designed with the most innovative advanced designs including state of the art technologies and modern amenities: including a spa, elevators to all six decks, Internet access throughout the ship, and oversized suites all with private verandas and large opening picture windows and sliding glass doors offering spectacular views. Every suite is fitted with many modern conveniences and amenities expected by the discerning traveler. The ships will be fully stabilized and meets the newest and most stringent safety and environmental standards. The atmosphere is relaxing and inviting, much like that of a fine private club, offering "Luxury Adventure" and "backstage passes" to the culture, customs and cuisine of each of the line's specially selected ports of call with every cruise experience.
