Great Lakes Summer Season Begins and Cuba Season Concludes Until Fall

GUILFORD, CT – April 30, 2018 – Pearl Seas Cruises is pleased to announce that it is looking forward to the start of a nearly sold-out summer season on the Great Lakes just as the Line concludes a superb spring season in Cuba. “Pearl Seas’ guest satisfaction is at an all-time high with passengers loving the new shore tours and additional time in Cuba,” a company official said. Pearl Seas’ 11-night Cuba Cultural Voyages circumnavigate Cuba and offer 3 times more time on the island than other lines. Pearl Seas will resume Cuba cruises late November through December 2018, as Cuba continues to be one of the world’s most welcoming and remarkable cruising destinations.

Like Cuba, demand for cruising in the Great Lakes has been increasing year after year. Beginning this June 2018, Pearl Seas will be offering two of the best cruising experiences available on the Great Lakes: an 11-night Great Lakes & Georgian Bay itinerary and a 7-night Great Lakes itinerary, between Chicago & Toronto.

Aboard Pearl Mist, guests will cruise through four of the Great Lakes, Georgian Bay, and the Thirty Thousand Islands region. With a wonderful diversity of port stops, guests will have the opportunity to tour both Chicago and Toronto and enjoy a range of shore excursions from stepping back in time on Mackinac Island to discovering the history of the automobile at the Henry Ford Museum.
